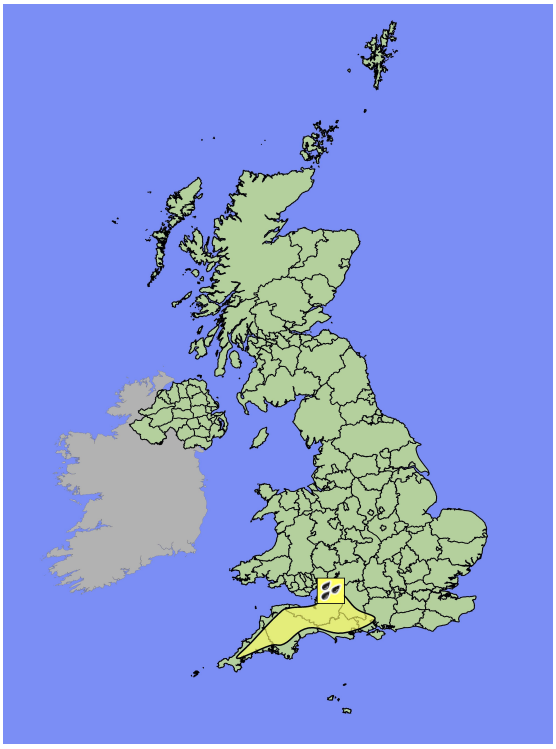
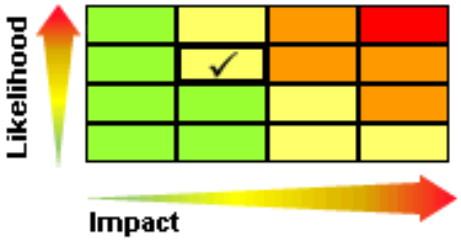
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Some heavy showers are expected to develop across the region today, although by no means all parts will catch them, with some much drier, sunnier exceptions. However, where they do occur, they may be quite intense, of particular note to those traveling home after an Easter break.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 14:00 on Fri, 13th Apr 2012 until 20:00 on Fri, 13th Apr 2012

Scattered slow-moving thundery showers are expected to develop this afternoon, persisting into this evening.

The public should be aware that these may result in difficult driving conditions due to localised surface water flooding, or hail on road surfaces.
